PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

A brief description of the graduate program.

The Master of Science in Global Supply Chain Management (MS GSCM) is a joint program offered by the Marshall School of Business in collaboration with the Viterbi School of Engineering, two top-ranked professional schools at the University of Southern California. Combining a world-class academic foundation in Supply Chain Management with real-world applications in the form of live projects for leading companies as well as international and domestic site visits, USC's Global Supply Chain Management program uniquely prepares you for an increasingly global, complex, and ever-evolving world.

NOTES FROM THE DEPARTMENT

This section highlights any unique considerations, exceptions, or requirements for the graduate program. If a program has specific restrictions (courses, majors, etc.), they are detailed below.

Program Requirements

The MS GSCM program starts in Fall semesters only. The degree requires at least two Fall semesters and one Spring semester. Students must take at least 6 units of core MS GSCM courses in their first Fall, at least 3 units of core in their first Spring, are recommended to pursue an internship in Summer, and must take the remaining core courses in the correct term (see "Core") along with all required elective units. Students with fewer than 4 units remaining in their final semester may be eligible to work full-time concurrently (including international students).

*Course Exceptions

GSBA 534: Students who have taken BUAD 311: Operations Management (or the World Bachelor in Business equivalent, ISOM 2700 at HKUST) and earned a B or better can replace this course with 3 additional units of electives.

DSO 581: Students who have taken DSO 482: Supply Chain Management and earned a B or better can replace this course with 3 additional units of electives.

Electives

Please see the USC Catalogue for a list of our preapproved electives: <https://catalogue.usc.edu/>

Marshall Undergraduates

Marshall UG majors may be able to use up to 9 units of 500-level graduate electives taken as part of the MS GSCM program toward their Marshall MUDE units. You will have the opportunity to discuss this in detail with the graduate program advisor if your application is recommended for admission.
